

42 U.S. Code § 239h

Relationship to other laws

Except as explicitly provided herein, nothing in this part shall be construed to override or limit any rights an individual may have to seek compensation, benefits, or redress under any other provision of Federal or State law.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login