

42 U.S. Code § 285q

Purpose of Institute

The general purpose of the National Institute of Nursing Research (in this subpart referred to as the “Institute”) is the conduct and support of, and dissemination of information respecting, basic and clinical nursing research, training, and other programs in patient care research.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login