

15 U.S. Code § 5521

National Science Foundation activities

As part of the Program described in subchapter I—

(1) the National Science Foundation shall provide high-end computing and networking infrastructure support for all science and engineering disciplines, and support basic research and human resource development in all aspects of networking and information technology; and

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login