Office of National Drug Control Policy

(a) Establishment of Office

There is established in the Executive Office of the President an Office of National Drug Control Policy, which shall—

- (1) lead the national drug control effort, including coordinating with the National Drug Control Program agencies;
- (2) coordinate and oversee the implementation of the national drug control policy, including the National Drug Control Strategy;
- (3) assess and certify the adequacy of National Drug Control Programs and the budget for those programs;
- (4) evaluate the effectiveness of national drug control policy efforts, including the National Drug Control Program Agencies' <sup>[1]</sup> programs, by developing and applying specific goals and performance measurements and monitoring the agencies' program-level spending;
