

40 C.F.R. § 105.11

Who selects the award winners?

After EPA receives the completed application, the application is evaluated by a review committee. After the review committee completes its evaluation of the programs that have been nominated, they make recommendations for the national awards. EPA then analyzes the results and selects the award winners.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login