

40 C.F.R. § 1051.710

How do I generate and bank emission credits?

- (a) Banking is the retention of emission credits by the manufacturer generating the emission credits for use in averaging or trading in future model years. You may use banked emission credits only within the averaging set in which they were generated.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login