

40 C.F.R. § 1060.301

Manufacturer testing.

- (a) Using good engineering judgment, you must evaluate production samples to verify that equipment or components you produce are as specified in the certificate of conformity. This may involve testing using certification procedures or other measurements.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login