

40 C.F.R. § 1065.401

Test engine selection.

While all engine configurations within a certified engine family must comply with the applicable standards in the standard-setting part, you need not test each configuration for certification.

(a) Select an engine configuration within the engine family for testing, as follows:

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login