40 C.F.R. § 610.31

Vehicle tests for fuel economy and exhaust emissions.

---

(a) The tests described in subpart D, E, or F may be conducted if existing data or other information are insufficient to support claims for a device in any of these areas:

- (1) Degree of improvement in fuel economy
- (2) Effect on exhaust emissions
- (3) Vehicle applicability

(b) The Administrator may determine that, in certain cases, tests using engine dynamometers are adequate for determining the effect of a device. Examples of such cases are given below.
