

40 C.F.R. § 761.99

Other transboundary shipments.

For purposes of this subpart, the following transboundary shipments are not considered exports or imports:

- (a) PCB waste generated in the United States, transported outside the Customs Territory of the United States (including any residuals resulting from cleanup of spills of such wastes in transit) through another country or its territorial waters, or through international waters, and returned to the United States for disposal.
