

40 C.F.R. § 98.140

Definition of the source category.

- (a) A glass manufacturing facility manufactures flat glass, container glass, pressed and blown glass, or wool fiberglass by melting a mixture of raw materials to produce molten glass and form the molten glass into sheets, containers, fibers, or other shapes. A glass manufacturing facility uses one or more continuous glass melting furnaces to produce glass.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login