

29 C.F.R. § 503.18

Validity of temporary labor certification.

- (a) Validity period. A temporary labor certification is valid only for the period of time between the beginning and ending dates of employment, as approved on the Application for Temporary Employment Certification. The certification expires on the last day of authorized employment.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login