

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 2, Number 15. August 15, 2019

StarKist Tuna unable to pay fines

By Sascha Matuszak

One of the major players in the "Big Tuna" price fixing scandal, StarKist Tuna, told a judge in the U.S. District Court in San Francisco, California, that it would not be able to pay the U.S. Justice Department's proposed USD 100-million criminal fine and compensate customers suing over the antitrust conspiracy.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login