

CEP Magazine – September 2019 EU moves ahead with new conflict minerals regulations

A new regulation coming into effect in 2021 will make the OECD Due Diligence Guidance and its Supplement on Gold binding for EU member states sourcing tin, tantalum, tungsten, and gold. The regulation comes after the United States repealed Section 1502 of the Dodd–Frank Act,^[1] which required companies to report on their compliance efforts.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login