

42 C.F.R. § 63a.8

How long does grant support last?

- (a) The notice of the grant award specifies how long the Secretary intends to support the project without requiring the grantee to recompetete for funds. This period, called the “project period,” will usually be for one to five years.
- (b) Generally, the grant will be initially for one year and subsequent continuation awards will be for one year at a time. A grantee must submit a separate application at the time and in the form and manner that the Secretary may require to have the support continued for each subsequent year. Decisions regarding continuation awards and the funding level of these awards will be made after consideration of such factors as the grantee's progress and management practices, and the availability of funds. In all cases, continuation awards require determination by the Secretary that continued funding is in the best interest of the Federal Government.
