

42 C.F.R. § 84.250

Vinyl chloride respirators; description.

Vinyl chloride respirators, including all completely assembled respirators which are designed for use as respiratory protection during entry into and escape from vinyl chloride atmospheres containing adequate oxygen to support life, are described according to their construction as follows:

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login