

42 C.F.R. § 87.4

For what purposes may grants be awarded?

- (a) The Occupational Safety and Health Act authorizes grants for research, experiments, and demonstrations relating to occupational safety and health, including studies of the psychological factors involved. This authority includes projects to develop innovative methods, techniques, and approaches for dealing with occupational safety and health problems.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login