

CEP Magazine – March 2021 Remote investigations require greater preparation

---

By Gerry Zack

Please feel free to contact me anytime to share your thoughts: +1 612.357.1544 (cell), +1 952.567.6215 (direct), gerry.zack@corporatecompliance.org.

- twitter.com/gerry\_zack
- linkedin.com/in/gerryzack

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed many aspects of how we conduct business, and the investigation process is among the most directly affected. With a greater percentage of the workforce working remotely, the manner with which we conduct compliance investigations has changed. Most signs point toward a more remote workforce long after the pandemic eases, so the changes we make are likely to be with us for the long haul.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login