

CEP Magazine – April 2022

Three survey insights about effective compliance controls

By Dian Zhang

Dian Zhang (dian.zhang@gartner.com) is a Research Specialist at Gartner in Arlington, Virginia, USA.

Into year three of the global pandemic, compliance leaders are looking for ways to keep compliance and ethical principles front and center. So try embedding compliance guidance into employee workflows. This is a key finding from a Gartner study based on interviews and a survey of 77 legal and compliance professionals and 755 employees across various regions and industries.^[1]

Here are three additional key insights from this study.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login