

Corporate Compliance Forms and Tools Sample Data Attribute Chart

When mapping your organization's data, you need to determine the attributes and characteristics of the different types of data you have. The chart below lists different categories of information you may want to know in analyzing the data your organization owns, uses, and stores. The color key can be used to indicate next steps.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login