

CEP Magazine – September 2022 ESG and executive compensation

By Gerry Zack

Please feel free to contact me anytime to share your thoughts: +1 612.357.1544 (cell), +1 952.567.6215 (direct), gerry.zack@corporatecompliance.org.

- twitter.com/gerry_zack
- linkedin.com/in/gerryzack

Incentive plans for corporate executives have been linked to financial metrics for many years. Adding environmental, social, and governance (ESG) metrics to these compensation plans is a more recent development—especially over the last 10 years—as companies increasingly want ESG goals to be taken seriously by the senior management team.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login