

CEP Magazine – May 2020 So, who really owns compliance?

---

By Gerry Zack

Please feel free to contact me anytime to share your thoughts.

- +1 612.357.1544 (cell)
- +1 952.567.6215 (direct)
- gerry.zack@corporatecompliance.org

I had just taken my seat on the plane for a recent trip to another Society of Corporate Compliance and Ethics conference when I observed an interesting behavior. A passenger was pummeling his backpack in a violent manner, attempting to wedge it into a much-too-small space in the overhead compartment, clearly not wanting to have to check the bag. When a flight attendant approached, the passenger said, “Don’t worry, it’s just a laptop; I don’t own it.”

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login