

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 3, Number 12. June 11, 2020

Indian food regulator updates online portal

The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India debuted its updated online platform for granting licenses and registration to food business operators on May 3. The new platform, called the Food Safety Compliance System^[1] (FoSCoS), is designed to be a one-stop platform for all licensing and registration services as well as the primary online contact point for food business operators seeking regulatory guidance.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login