

CEP Magazine – July 2020 Data protection and information security with remote work

By Robert Bond

Robert Bond (robert.bond@bristows.com) is Partner & Notary Public at Bristows LLP in London, UK.

Several months into the COVID-19 lockdown, many of us are working from home in circumstances that were never anticipated. Many of us are operating without the right technical and organizational structures to manage the information we are processing. Data protection authorities around the world have reinforced the fact that while they may be reasonable about the challenges that organizations face in managing data protection and information security, the laws still apply.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login