

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 3, Number 13. June 25, 2020

Honda victim of ransomware attack

---

By Sascha Matuszak

A cyberattack brought Honda Motor Company Ltd.'s manufacturing, financial services and customer services operations to a standstill, the company announced via Twitter.<sup>[1]</sup> The cyberattack was most likely what is known as a ransomware attack, which involves the use of file-encrypting malware that scrambles files and holds them hostage until the victim pays a ransom.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login