

Compliance Today – July 2020 Teladoc visits skyrocket during COVID-19

By Sascha Matuszak

Teladoc Health, a New York-based telemedicine company, reported a 60.8% year-over-year increase in US paid membership in the first quarter of 2020.^[1] Although the surge is driven by COVID-19 and may taper off after the pandemic has subsided, the numbers show that people are willing to access medical help online and post-pandemic visits to portals such as Teladoc may maintain higher levels going forward.
