

CEP Magazine – August 2020 US Department of Justice releases updates to corporate compliance guidance

By Sascha Matuszak

In June, the Department of Justice made small changes to the Evaluation of Corporate Compliance Programs^[1] guidance document that reflect the department's growing understanding of how compliance programs should work and how to investigate whether a company has established an effective program.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login