

Compliance Today – August 2024

Nakis Urfi (linkedin.com/in/nurfi/) is a Senior Manager, Provider Relations & Regulatory Compliance at Abbott based in Dallas, TX.

Help make opportunities in healthcare with AI

by Nakis Urfi

In the rapidly evolving healthcare landscape, artificial intelligence (AI) has emerged as a game-changer, promising significant advancements in patient care, operational efficiency, and data management. However, integrating AI into healthcare systems presents unique challenges—particularly for compliance professionals. Too often, these professionals view AI through a narrow lens, focusing primarily on risks and governance needs. This cautious approach is understandable, given the high stakes in patient safety and regulatory adherence. However, expanding our perspective and leveraging our expertise is crucial to enable businesses to grow creatively and compliantly.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login