

Controlled Substance Crisis: A Holistic Approach for Hospitals

Tamara Mattox, Healthcare Risk Consulting Sr. Manager, Crowe Horwath.

November 5, 2019

- Leading practices from a large healthcare system on their holistic approach to controlled substance diversion and abuse monitoring
- Share the key critical fundamentals that every hospital should have
- Share the vision of the future state of hospital controlled substance monitoring through automation through the latest technologies such as blockchain and artificial intelligence

This document is only available to subscribers

Purchase