

Current Developments in Compliance Program Ethics Considerations for Compliance Officers and Attorneys

Theodore Banks, Partner, Scharf Banks Marmor LLC.

September 15, 2020

- What are the ethical considerations that face anyone involved in compliance activities, whether or not they are attorneys?
- What are some of the recent developments over the last year, including situations where compliance officers have become personally liable for failures in the compliance programs they were directing?
- How do developments in other areas, as technology, pose ethical obligations that might surprise a compliance officer?

This document is only available to subscribers

Purchase